

So Sore He Swore;
He Swears No More.

There was a Merchant mighty sore—
In fact, so sore he swore and swore
And kept on swearing more and more.

The trouble was that folks, instead
Of patronizing him, by Ned!
Were buying goods by mail, he said.

One day he got a little hint
On how to make his store a mint;
They hope took on a rosy tint.

He came and ADVERTISED his stock;
His store was crowded, chuck-a-
block,
From seven until six o'clock.

So now this Merchant swears no more;
No longer is he feeling sore,
Since ADVERTISING crowds his store.

RED WILLOW.

Mr. and Mrs. Sexson, Louis Longnecker and wife and John Longnecker were McCook visitors on Wednesday.

Friday last was a day of excitement among the lovers of base ball and basket ball. The Danbury teams came over and altho the threatening rain interfered some with the game, the players went on and gave two fine exhibitions.

Bartley won the base ball, score 5 to 6; and won the basket ball game, score 21 to 24. Some fine plays were made during the games.

Some of the Danbury boys brought some beer on the ground. One fellow got too much of the booze and after the game was over got into a fight. This was the only thing during the day that marred the pleasure of the occasion. And this trouble can certainly be attributed to booze which causes a fellow to seek trouble and generally find what he is looking for.

Joe Ohleson has returned from the asylum much improved in health.

The battery in the ball game last Friday was Adams, Miller and Sharp. Umpire, Theo. Faubin.

FOR CHILDREN.

The safest, gentlest, most pleasant and in every way desirable bowel regulator for children, as well as for adults, are Rexall Ordinaries. They are eaten like candy. They soothe and invigorate the delicate intestines, making them strong and active. They relieve constipation and overcome the necessity of the regular use of laxative. If they don't do as we claim we will return the price paid us for them. Two sizes, 10c. and 25c.

L. W. McConnell, The Rexall Store.
